

Going In-depth: Home care sustainability and mergers in light of industry reform and consolidation

Panel Facilitator:

Aaron Goldsworthy, Senior Consultant, Australian Strategic Services

Panellists:

- Jenni Allan, Chief Executive Officer, ADSSI
- Ben Jackson, Chief Executive Officer, Active Care Network and Chair, Community Transport Organisation
- Felicity Iredale, Senior Associate, Russell Kennedy Lawyers

What will be covered?

Gain in-depth insights, perspectives and considerations from industry leaders:

- How mergers can be used as a platform to invest in new products and services, increase impact and improve organisational processes;
- The critical steps/processes for considering and implementing a merger;
- Implementing communication, restructure and integration strategies that engage all staff and stakeholders in all phases of the merger process;
- Building and strengthening internal resources;
- Leveraging external resources, ensuring merger process doesn't compromise business as usual.

The home care sector is facing turbulent times, with many providers concerned about their financial sustainability. Home care reforms, which are seeking to strengthen provider governance and give consumers a greater say, represent a fundamental shift for many providers' service/business models. This shift and increasing compliance is coming just as high inflation and workforce shortages are starting to bite. Join our panellists and your industry colleagues to strengthen your understanding of mergers as a response to these turbulent times.

In this webinar, we will continue to explore the key processes and considerations for in-home care organisations that are contemplating a merger. We will hear firsthand how small to medium in-home care organisations have responded to the big picture and sustainability challenges of aged care, including where mergers have fitted into their organisation's strategy and why.

Our panellists will provide insights, perspectives and in-depth consideration of key steps and activities in the merger process that were explored in webinar one in April 2023.
